

Fullstack, Backend, Tech Lead Developers

→ Youmeal – www.youmeal.io

Youmeal is a fast-growing company with the ambition to transform food production and consumption for the benefit of our health and the planet. We offer food professionals a SaaS platform that analyzes their products and recipes and provides detailed and high quality information about the nutritional values and environmental impact of their offer. This information is provided to the consumers, who can then make their choice according to their criteria.

The technology is based on external and internal databases and intelligent algorithms (AI) which process a considerable amount of data. Market demand is changing rapidly and Youmeal strives to be the most innovative solution in its category.

Big names in food production and distribution are using Youmeal and today nearly 100,000 consumers are informed daily about the food offer. Youmeal is in the process of internationalisation.
